Your Rules Our Data

DNBi 3.0 combines your credit policies and risk rules with Dun & Bradstreet's data—the world's largest business credit database—to deliver near instant credit decision recommendations. Use DNBi 3.0 to streamline your credit approval and management processes while protecting your business from unnecessary risk.

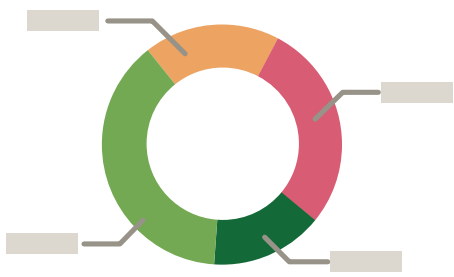

Automate Credit Decision Recommendations

Save time by combining your credit policies and risk rules with our data to deliver almost instant, consistent credit decision recommendations on new accounts, allowing you to focus on the ones that require your expertise.

For these more complex cases, you can access the most up-to-date financial information, news articles, and more to help you make the best credit decision.

Streamline Credit Applications Online

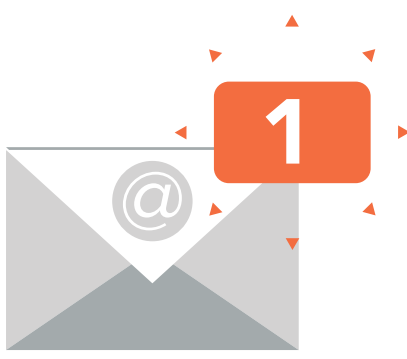

Capture the information you need at the time of submission to help you make credit decisions by sending new applicants a completely customizable online application that includes:

- Your Business Name, Branding, & Logo
- Your Questions & Required Fields
- Your Terms & Conditions

Enjoy Faster Credit Processing

You'll receive an automatic email alert every time a new application is submitted. All new applications are delivered right into your DNBi 3.0 Inbox. With DNBi, it's easy to see the automated credit decision recommendation and the reason for the outcome.
